News From The Summit

Spring, 2004

Give Thanks

As the last traces of the pretty white stuff leaves Bliss Summit, we see buds emerging on trees, flowers springing forth, grass greening up and growing, and fish feeding on flies. The beauty of fresh falling snow is replaced with the miracle of newly budding life and we give thanks to God that Spring has arrived as He promised it would.

A survey of Camp has revealed that the worst of winter damage is confined to some trees down that need to be cut and will furnish good wood for camp fires next year. Again, we thank the Lord for His protective hand.

We had asked for prayer as it appeared that Camp was going to be sold. We felt the heaviness and concern that this might end Bliss Summit's Ministry. God's hand was evident as the situation became cleared and Camp will remain a ministry operating under and with BCM. We give thanks that though we may not always know what is what, God does and is in control.

Staff and camper applications are coming in, work days are being set, people are praying, and soon, so soon, the singing, praising, laughing, verse reciting, and transforming of lives that are part of Bliss Summit Bible Camp will be once again in full swing. Yes, Praise God!!

HELP!!

With some changes in the laws of New York State, we are in need of active, licensed LPNs or RNs that can help this summer. Be it for 1 day or 6 days, if you can help, please call Kathy Speta at 585-437-2101. Please pray that God will fill this need.

Summer is Almost Here!!!

By An Apron Loving Staff Member

It's coming. Summer is coming despite the temperatures and recent snow. If you're reading this, I assume you also know that with summer comes camp. If you are anything like me that makes you giddy with happiness.

I've been looking forward to camp since last September. Camp is a great place to learn and grow in Christ. It's a wonderful place to meet new friends. It's a great escape from the real world. Ask anyone who has been to camp.

If you have children send them to camp. It would be a great experience for them. If you have the time, work at camp yourself. I can guarantee you won't walk away the same.

Youth Work Day

May 15th we will be having a work day for teens at Camp. We will be ready to go at 8:00 A.M. and wish to invite all teens with a heart to serve to come join us. Lunch and dinner will be served and Uncle Chad will lead a time of song and worship to our King.

So, mark it down, tell your youth leader you would like to be there, and come on down prepared to work, fellowship, praise God, and have some fun.

If you can't make it, please take a moment to pray for it. And remember, there's another work day scheduled on May 28th and 29th!

Please Pray

For Camp

Bliss Summit Ministry Team:
Coming (or has been) to a
Church Near You

By a Very Veggy Staff Member

It's that time of year again. People in blue shirts stuff themselves into a couple of vans and travel across the Southern Tier attempting to convince people to come to camp. You've seen the slides, heard the testimonies, and seen the skits. But there's more to this team of teenagers (and some adults who still think they're teenagers) than meets the eye.

Every Sunday the Bliss Summit Ministry Team goes to various churches in the area surrounding camp. The members are all volunteers who just love camp. (Really, who doesn't?) At any rate, the team gives up their time and talents to talk about camp and, more importantly, God. Sure, they'd like to see kids come to camp. It's a great place, but the focus of the team's program is to share God's word through verse recitation, skits, and songs.

The members of the team put a lot of hard work into the program. They have been practicing since late January. Yes, the Ministry Team would love to see you out to a service but if you can't make it, they would appreciate your prayers for the programs.
